

C.G. Jung Society, Seattle is a nonprofit educational organization formed to provide a forum for the ideas of Swiss psychiatrist Carl Gustav Jung (1875-1961).

C.G. Jung was a pioneer in the area of analytic psychology and the field now known as adult development theory. His ideas probe beyond the rational description of human problems and behavior to the inner focus and meaning of our lives.
Jung's contributions to psychology include the concepts of introversion and extraversion, synchronicity, archetype, and the collective unconscious.

As our lives have been influenced by Jung's ideas and strengthened by the courage of his example to know our own inner lives, and the life we share collectively, we aspire to share this wisdom with others.

*By including the Society in your estate plans, you will help promote Jung's ideas and create the next generation of leaders,
thinkers and doers,
benefiting our lives individually and collectively.*

We thank each and every person who makes a financial contribution to support our work. Your gift enables us to continue with our public education efforts to bring Jung's ideas into the world.

The C. G. Jung Society, Seattle, is recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a 501(c)(3) organization.
As such, charitable gifts to the Society are tax deductible to the full extent of the law.

As with any intentional action we take, making a charitable gift can benefit from planning. Several ways to make a planned gift may reduce your taxes. Below are some ways to make a planned, or legacy, gift.

Legacy gifts

One of the most important ways that you can support the Jung Society is by making a gift today that will provide financial support for the Society after your lifetime, a legacy gift.

Bequests

You may include the Society as a beneficiary of your will for a specific amount, for a percentage of your estate, or as a contingent beneficiary. If you are talking with your attorney about placing the CGJSS in your will, please contact us for suggested language.

Retirement Plans, IRAs and Life Insurance

Making the Society a beneficiary of insurance, an IRA or a retirement plan can provide for a significant future gift to the C. G. Jung Society, Seattle. Also, there may be advantages to directing retirement plan assets to non-profits such as the Society and leaving other, non-taxable assets to other heirs.

Life Income Plans

There are several vehicles that allow you to support the C. G. Jung Society, Seattle, and in return, receive regular income for the rest of your life. Life income plans may also provide significant income tax savings and favorable capital gains treatment of gifts of appreciated securities. Some of the most popular life income plans include: charitable gift annuities, pooled income funds, and charitable remainder trusts.

Real Estate

Donating real estate to the C. G. Jung Society, Seattle, may also be beneficial to your financial planning. By making such a gift, it is possible to avoid capital gains while receiving a tax deduction for the fair market value of the property. You will want to get the advice of your tax accountant or an attorney when considering a gift of real estate.

Please seek the advice of your estate planning attorney or tax accountant before establishing one of these plans. We would be glad to talk with you or meet with your tax advisor at your convenience.

The Society also welcomes gifts we can put to work today. These offer tax benefits (such as an income tax deduction) and the opportunity to support current programs.

Outright gifts

You can make an outright gift of cash, real estate, stock, a paid up life insurance policy and other property of value. Mail a check to C.G. Jung Society, 4649 Sunnyside Ave N, Seattle 98103, or telephone us to make a gift by phone at (206) 547-3956. You can also make a donation online at our website www.jungseattle.org
