

RESOURCES

The resources folder will contain access to various items including my blogs and sources that I consider useful in dealing with dreams, visions, synchronicities and other manifestations of the psyche. This resources page will be updated from time to time.

Ral's Notebook

This is my main blog. I recommend becoming a member of the blog so that you will be able to post comments. You will receive an email when something new is added. Here is the link: ralockhart.com/WP.

Fex & Coo

This is a site where Paco Mitchel and I work dreams into fictional forms following the ideas explored in my essay entitled, The Fictive Purpose of Dreams. This includes the serial novel, Fex & Coo, the screenplay Not in My Nightmare, the novel Deathling Crown Lottery, the novel Celidh of Dreams, and a large number of fictions that are assembled as Left Out.

All these works originated in dreams.

The Owl and Heron Press

The Owl and Heron Press publishes books that are focused on dreams, visions and synchronicities and with wide ranging topics. The blog is quite active and focuses on questions relating to human extinction. Access the blog here: Owl and Heron Press
